

There's a product for that...

So, March is here and you're starting to think about spring cleaning. Let's take a look at your house. Ugh! It's a mess! What are those black streaks running down my roof and is that really moss growing on my shingles? Do I need a new roof? The brick, what is that white stuff? And, on the siding, what is that black stuff? How am I going to clean up this mess?

You've come to the right place, because I have a few great products for you to try. Chances are, you don't need a new roof, you need "Spray and Forget" roof cleaner. This product is fabulous. Spray it on using a garden hose and in about 6 month the mold, moss, and stains will be gone. I used this product on my own roof and was amazed with the results. Next up that black stuff (mold, dirt, and mildew) on the siding and brick, you need "Jomax" house cleaner by Zinnser. Again spray it on using a garden hose, do a little scrubbing, and rinse. This product can be used on just about any kind of siding with excellent results. Last but not least getting those windows clean. You don't need any special products, just water and ammonia. But, you do some special equipment a good scrubber and a squeegee. Unfortunately I don't have a spray and forget option for the windows. These take elbow grease and time. To really get your windows looking good squeegee after washing.

Cleaning the exterior of your house should be a routine part of your home maintenance plan. Keeping the house free of dirt, mildew, mold, and moss will extend the life of your roof and exterior siding products. Consistent maintenance will also keep the house looking better which should in turn improve the curb appeal and over all value. So roll up those sleeves and get to work.
